BRING WAIT WITHOUT SCREENS TO YOUR PROGRAM

Simple ways early childhood professionals can share the campaign.

Help families see everyday waiting differently.

Wait Without Screens is not an anti-screen campaign. It is an invitation to notice that not every wait needs a device - and that ordinary waits can create opportunities to talk, play, notice, wonder, and sometimes simply wait.

SHARE IT WITH FAMILIES

Include a Wait Without Screens resource in a family email, newsletter, bulletin board, or family event.

TALK ABOUT WAITING

Help families recognize ordinary waits as moments children can gradually learn to manage - not problems adults must always eliminate.

MAKE TRANSITIONS ENGAGING

During transitions, use conversation, songs, movement, games, noticing, and other playful interactions to keep children engaged without relying on screens.

OFFER PRACTICAL TOOLS

Point families to the free conversation cards and other printable resources at WaitWithoutScreens.com.

SPREAD THE MESSAGE

Share campaign materials with colleagues and families and use #WaitWithoutScreens to help the idea travel.
